

Contents

f Theories, principles and approaches

- 6 Taking curriculum seriously
Christine Counsell
- 10 Applying the 'powerful knowledge' principle to curriculum development in disadvantaged contexts
Robbie Burns
- 13 Curriculum: An offer of what the best might be Martin Robinson

i Influences on curriculum development

- 16 Skills versus knowledge: A curriculum debate that matters – and one which we need to reject
Tim Oates
- 18 What is a 'knowledge-rich' curriculum?
Tom Sherrington
- 21 Designing a primary knowledge-rich curriculum: Where we've been, where we are, where we are going
Danielle V Dennis and James Kilsby
- 24 Teacher participation in curriculum change: Our school story
Claire Bishop
- 26 Rethinking curriculum partnerships for deep learning and lasting change
Andy Moor

- 28 Taking a long view: Designing curricula for pupils with Down syndrome and other learners with speech, language and communication needs (SLCN) working below level 2
Leela Bakshi

- 31 Designing a curriculum to nurture compassionate citizens
James Biddulph

c Curriculum design in context

- 34 Building curriculum coherence
Mary Myatt
- 37 Knowledgeable skills or skilful knowledge?
Steven Berryman
- 40 Designing a coherent English curriculum
Claire Hill
- 42 Balanced RE: Thoughts on RE curriculum design
Gillian Georgiou
- 46 A reflection on modern languages pedagogy and how teachers might engage with research
Steve Smith
- 49 Designing a secular religious studies curriculum
Ben Arscott
- 52 Geography at the heart of the primary curriculum
Tessa Willy and Simon Catling
- 56 Developing mathematics curricula in primary and secondary
Kevin Hubbard and Caroline Locke

- 59 Constructing the curriculum of (initial) teacher education: When should new teachers be encouraged to ask critical questions?
Katharine Burn and Trevor Mutton

p Planning, lessons and learning

- 63 The Learning Skills curriculum: Raising the bar, closing the gap at GCSE
James Mannion, Kate McAllister and Neil Mercer
- 66 A template to trigger and capture improved thinking on curriculum and assessment
Helen Ralston
- 68 A design for life – curriculum and assessment for long-term learning
Philip Stock
- 70 Organising knowledge: The purpose and pedagogy of knowledge organisers
Mark Miller
- 73 Learning conversations: Teacher researchers evaluating dialogic strategies in early years settings
Pete Boyd
- 77 Practical approaches to embedding research in schools: Key learning and reflections from the Research in Schools Learning Community
Sue Sing, Laela Adamson, Iro Konstantinou, Susan Graham, Rachel Stenhouse, Anna Wicking, Pippa Wadey, Sam Rowden-Knowles, Emma Taylor and Hayley Hemming