

Co-ordinators' Conference 2021

The Co-ordinators' Conference this year will be replaced with two online webinars.

The first session is designed for the co-ordinators/exam officers in each school. It will cover information relating to the administration and support for Cambridge IGCSE for the June 2021 exam series.

The second session will have more of a focus on training focus and will consider practical tools to help with remote learning and its impact on language learning and student engagement.

Session 1: Tuesday 26 January 2021 at 17:00-17:45 Spanish time

- Welcome and introduction
- Report on the Project from 2020
- Latest news regarding 2021 exams
- Support and resources from Cambridge University Press and Cambridge International
- Round up and questions

This session is likely to be of interest to the exams officers/co-ordinators of the project within the school.

Session 2: Thursday 28 January 2021 at 17:00-18:30 Spanish time

Learning in a Changing World

The past year has provided some challenging times for teaching and education. Blended learning, access to resources, motivation to learn and personal resilience have been some of the issues facing teachers and students and testing capacities like never before. This session will focus on what we have learned over the past year, how remote learning has impacted on language learning and student engagement and how teachers can use this knowledge to ensure learning is taking place. The aim is to provide teachers with some practical and accessible tools to assist with blended learning and develop existing pedagogy in Active Learning and Assessment for Learning.

Facilitator: Dr Fleur McLennan

This session is likely to be of interest to all teachers within the school.
